Hélice is the official quarterly Magazine of the Triple Helix Association (ISSN 2281-4515) and is published in March, June, September and December each year. Hélice is produced by an Editorial Board with Editor in Chief: Dr Devrim Goktepe-Hulten; Managing Editor: Sheila Forbes, and Book Review Editor: Branca Terra.

Distributed to scholars, practitioners, policy-makers, and public administrators, Hélice reaches academic institutions, industrial organizations, and research establishments worldwide. It attracts an audience of around 2500 readers, including both members and non-members of the Triple Helix Association.

The Triple Helix model is a popular concept for the framing of university, industry, and government relations towards sustained economic growth. We encourage authors to share their recent work and contribute to the dialogue on innovation and Triple Helix interactions. News items and book reviews are also most welcome.

The Editorial Board of Hélice invites:

- Articles dealing with all aspects of the interaction between academy-industry-government (Triple Helix) for fostering research, innovation, economic competitiveness and growth. Contributions should be in MSWord, no longer than 2500-3000 words, and include a recent photograph of the author.
Contact: devrimgoktepe@gmail.com and sheila.forbes@strath.ac.uk.
- Book Reviews from publishers and writers/reviewers on new publications relating to all Triple Helix themes. Reviews should be original and interesting, should be written clearly and concisely, and upto 1000 words in MSWord.
Contact: brancaterra@gmail.com.
- News items related to conferences and events, call for papers, projects, job posting and any other activity relevant or related to Triple Helix interactions you/your organization is organizing/have organized. Articles should be in MSWord, no longer than 1000 words, and include web links to any related activity.
